

Teamwork Reflection

Xiyue(Vivian) Zhang

Overview:

Our team was known for strong individual abilities and great communication. We did well in sharing tasks and working together, helping everyone to contribute their best. Frequent meetings and quick responses in our group chat were essential for keeping our team positive and effective.

Individual Reviews:

Jaxon Yue: Grade A

- Strengths:
 1. Excellent in Flask app development and HTML templating.
 2. Deep understanding of dataset and ETL process.
 3. Good at decision-making and providing helpful feedback.
- Areas to Improve:
 1. Involve the team more before making decisions.
 2. Set more challenging goals with data.
 3. Make code clearer with additional comments.

Haochong (Harry) Xia: Grade A

- Strengths:
 1. Outstanding in load testing and Azure deployment.
 2. Excellent problem-solving skills.
 3. Effective in troubleshooting and technical strategies.
- Areas to Improve:
 1. Improve clarity and conciseness in documentation.
 2. Increase involvement in team decision-making.
 3. Foster better team collaboration.

Eve Sheng: Grade A

- Strengths:
 1. Major asset in UI design.
 2. Adaptability to changes and effective communication.

3. Consistent and reliable in project progress.

- Areas to Improve:

1. Engage more in technical problem-solving.
2. Enhance time management skills.
3. Be more proactive in task completion.

Team Feedback and Growth:

Our feedback sessions were vital for open conversation and constructive criticism. We recognized the need for better project management to distribute tasks evenly and improve team coordination. We also decided to have regular progress updates and find quick solutions to problems. These discussions helped strengthen our team and showed our dedication to improving individually and as a group.